Meet Amin Khan

A Painter, turned vlogger in the streets of Islamabad, who documents his daily life journey, of how hard it is to find work, being a skilled labor

Like Amin, there are thousands, or even hundreds of thousands of labors, on the street of Pakistan, who are battling inflation, and unemployment.

These labors are skilled in various aspects, some being talented electricians, plumbers or even mechanics

However, due to lack of knowledge of marketing themselves, and somewhat lack of trust amongst the general public, they are unable to get a consistent source of income.

Now, let's talk about the general public

When your fridge breaks down, or your Air Conditioner stops working, what do you do?

Most people take out their phone, and call the technician that has been carrying out their repairs for a long time, in short, a well trusted contact.

But for a student, who is just starting to spread out their wings, or someone who has recently shifted from a foreign city, or country, and has no contacts, where do they go?

You just can't pick up any random technician from the streets, as that, would be a major security risk.

This is where, we introduce Ustaad

Ustaad has a simple goal :

- Combat Unemployment
- Provide the talented labors and skilled workers, a platform to get a source of income
- Help the general public find verified, trusted workers to get their jobs done
